

PROVINCIAL COURT OF ALBERTA

COVID-19 COURT MEASURES UPDATE

Effective: May 6, 2021

In response to the increase in COVID-19 cases in the province, the Provincial Court of Alberta is implementing the following Court measures:

Criminal (Adult)

Between May 10, 2021 – May 28, 2021 all non-urgent out-of-custody trials, preliminary inquiries and other hearings requiring viva voce evidence will be adjourned. There will however be no presumptive adjournments. Counsel will obtain new dates remotely. Subject to the direction of the Assistant Chief Judge in charge of the region or Division, this can be done in advance of the trial date through remote court scheduling, on the scheduled trial date through the case management office or in accordance with existing regional protocols. Self-represented individuals must obtain a new trial date on the currently scheduled trial date by contacting the Case Management Office remotely or with the assistance of duty counsel at the courthouse.

All other proceedings including docket applications and pre-trials will be conducted virtually.

In-custody trials and preliminary hearings scheduled at circuit point locations will proceed at the circuit point. Docket appearances currently scheduled at circuit point locations will be addressed virtually. There will be no in-person attendance.

Should you wish to have an out-of-custody criminal trial proceed, you must write the Assistant Chief Judge in charge of the region or Division, outlining why the matter should be considered urgent with a copy to opposing counsel at least seven business days (where possible) prior to the first day of the trial. The Assistant Chief Judge or designate will then determine if the matter will be adjourned or proceed to trial and advise counsel accordingly.

Case Management Offices

All case management offices remain closed for in-person attendance until further notice. See the Case Management Offices \(CMO\) Out-of-Custody Docket Protocol for information about how to appear remotely at the CMO and the advanced duty counsel service.

Civil

All in-person matters that are scheduled between May 10 – May 28, 2021, including trials, pretrial conferences, assessments and applications, will be adjourned. The parties will be contacted by the Court to discuss case management issues, including new dates for the matter to proceed. All matters other than trials that are presently scheduled to be heard by telephone or Webex will proceed as scheduled.

Traffic, Ticket, Bylaw, Provincial Offences and Inquiries

Traffic Court is not open for in-person appearances until further notice.

- For trial matters scheduled up to and including May 28, 2021 — If you have a scheduled trial or are a witness at a trial, you will be required to contact the base court office for the location your trial is scheduled by telephone or email for further information.
- For all other matters, you are required to contact the designated court office by telephone or email for further information.

More information at COVID-19 Traffic Court.

Family and Child Protection

All family docket appearances, judicial dispute resolutions (JDRs) and pre-trial conferences (PTCs) will proceed strictly remotely. For more information, visit the Family and Youth COVID-19 information page.

Family:

All non-urgent interim hearings and trials will be adjourned. Urgent interim hearings and trials will proceed in person in accordance with the following criteria of urgency:

1. There is a risk of immediate harm to parties or child(ren);
2. There is an imminent risk of removal of child(ren) from Alberta;
3. For support orders, there is demonstrable severe financial hardship;

4. For mobility applications there is demonstrable risk to the child(ren) or a demonstrable risk of severe financial hardship to one of the parties; or
5. The hearing has previously been adjourned due to reasons pertaining to COVID-19.

Child Protection:

All child protection apprehension applications, docket appearances, case conferences, JDRs, and PTCs will proceed strictly remotely. For more information, visit the Family and Youth COVID-19 information page.

All initial custody applications will proceed as scheduled.

All non-urgent interim hearings and trials will be adjourned.

For all Family and Child Protection matters, if the parties do not agree, the determination of whether an interim hearing or trial is urgent shall be made by a judge, in accordance with urgency criteria, including whether the statutory cumulative time in care is exceeded and whether the parents have engaged with the judicial process.

For all interim hearings and trials scheduled from May 10 – 28, 2021, if the parties agree that their matter does not meet the urgency criteria, they shall bring the matter forward with three business days' notice using the existing bring forward process to reschedule the trial. If the parties do not agree that the matter should be adjourned, they are to follow the appropriate protocols, which can be found on the Family and Youth COVID-19 information page.

Youth Criminal matters:

During this time period, all non-urgent out-of-custody youth criminal matters will be adjourned. Counsel are to rebook matters according to existing protocols.

Should you wish to have an out-of-custody (youth) criminal trial proceed you must write the Assistant Chief Judge in charge of the region or Division, outlining why the matter should be considered urgent with a copy to opposing counsel at least seven business days (where possible) prior to the first day of the trial. The Assistant Chief Judge or designate will then determine if the matter will be adjourned or proceed to trial and advise counsel accordingly.

The protocol for Emergency Protection Orders, Mental Health Act Warrants, Protection of Children Abusing Drugs Act applications, Secure Services applications and Protection of Sexually Exploited Children Act applications remains unchanged.